

UDAIPUR STATE.
LAKE OF 1,000 ISLES.

By Appointment

Udaipur State—Lake of 1000 Isles. This state, also called Mewar is in the south of Rajputana, with an area of over 12,000 square miles. The principal city, also called Udaipur, is finely situated on the slope of a low ridge, the summit of which is crowned by a palace while the houses extend to the banks of a beautiful lake, 2½ miles long and 1½ broad. In the middle are two island palaces and the views here are as fine as anything in India.

Your loving
Dad.

I hope you are very well
also. What Bibi is keeping well, & not catching my cold. I have not had any mail from Yokee or you for a fortnight now, and I am so looking forward to another one arriving hearing how you spent your Christmas at Lau Nih (TPA 12.8)
